Outline Seen Developing on 'Great Society'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Outlines of President Johnson's "Great Society" are emerging on Capitol Hill, with a vast program of federal aid to education next on the horizon.

Its first congressional test over, the $1.3-billion school aid bill — emphasizing assistance to poverty-stricken areas — enters a new House arena Tuesday.

In the Senate, Johnson's plan to extend and expand the three-year-old manpower training program has been readied for action.

And the administration's top-priority program of medical care for the aged, its terms broadened from those Johnson originally recommended, may go to the House soon after the education measure is cleared.

Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., of the House Education and Labor Committee will ask today for a Rules Committee hearing on the education bill. That is the next step on the way to a House vote, which probably will come late this month.

The bill got solid Democratic support in Powell's committee and the same kind of backing in the House itself is likely to speed the measure to the Senate. There have been hearings; there on a parallel bill, but no legislation has yet emerged from committee.

The manpower training bill recommended by the Senate Labor Committee would extend the program for five years. That falls short of the permanent program Johnson sought. In the House, Powell's committee — with Republican support — has approved a two-year extension.

The Senate committee set a $465-million first-year spending ceiling on the extended program to train men for jobs.

The House Ways and Means Committee is nearing its crucial decision on medical care for the aged. A broadened version of the Johnson bill may be cleared in about a week by that committee, the graveyard of past medical care proposals.

Daily committee sessions on medical care, which began Jan. 27, have been recessed until Wednesday, while the legislation is drafted.

Along with it, the committee will send to the House an increase in Social Security benefits, probably 5 or 6 per cent. Johnson had talked of 7 per cent.

The medical care bill informally endorsed by committeemen incorporates key features of the Johnson program but broadens it to offer coverage for doctors' bills and drugs. The latter aspects would be optional, and would be financed in part by deductions from an individual's Social Security payments.

3,500 More Marines Assigned To Guard Key Viet Nam Air Base

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Marines landed by sea and air in South Viet Nam today to strengthen the defense of the key Da Nang air base against attack by the Communist Viet Cong.

One battalion of 1,400 Marines came ashore from four 7th Fleet transport ships standing half a mile off the coast 380 miles north of Saigon.

About 3,500 in all from the 3rd Marine Division were expected by Tuesday night, including a helicopter squadron. Landing of the helicopter group was reported delayed by heavy surf which also slowed the movement of tanks and artillery to the beach.

A detachment of 1,200 Marines was already at Da Nang manning Hawk antiaircraft missile batteries.

The Marines are to strengthen this base from which major air strikes have been launched against North Viet Nam. Two Vietnamese battalions were deployed in the area to meet any Red attack.

The Communists overran a regional forces platoon Saturday night three miles south of the Da Nang runway. Four government soldiers were killed and several weapons were lost.

"We've been ready to do this job for some time," said Brig. Gen. Frederick Joseph Karch of Carmi, Ill., commander of the 9th Marine Expeditionary Force.

Karch, 47, said his outfit had been deployed in the South China Sea almost constantly since Jan. 20. He said his men had n special training for Viet Nam duty, but all of them had been through jungle training.

"We will be operating strictly in a defensive role," Karch said. "They will no doubt be patrolling, however, within the zone to which we are assigned."

Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, commander of South Viet Nam's northern military district, was on the beach to greet the Marines.

"Now that the Marines have landed, I can go and fight with my people who have been guarding the airport," said Thi to a newsman. "My men prefer to fight. Now we will be able t. do so."

Karch said his men would construct sandbag defensive positions, foxholes and set up their tents at the air base.

Later some will move off the airbase to guard the Hawk missiles which have been redeployed away from the runway.

Patrolling the rice fields and mountains around the base will remain the responsibility of Vietnamese troops.

Curb on Mail Order Guns, Drugs Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today to ban sale of mail order firearms, tighten controls over drugs, and strengthen safety in the streets as part of an attack on crime as a national problem.

"Crime will not wait while we pull it up by the roots,' Johnson said in a special message to the House and Senate. "We must arrest and reverse the trend toward lawlessness."

Various bills will be submitted to carry out this idea, some of them still in a vague stage.

For example, the presidential message made no reference to legalizing wire tapping in some instances, although this could be wrapped into legislation the Justice Department will lay before the lawmakers.

But Johnson did say that he is proposing legislation to prohibit shipments of firearms in interstate commerce except among importers, manufacturers and dealers licensed by the Treasury Department.

"Mail order sales to individuals would thus stop," Johnson said.

It was a mail order rifle which assassin Lee Harvey Oswald used to strike down President John F. Kennedy.

In the field of drug control, Johnson proposed that Congress regulate the use of sedatives and stimulants — he called them dangerous drugs — without impeding their medical use legitimately.

"Senseless killings, robberies, and auto accidents have resulted from the radical personality changes induced by the indiscriminate use of these drugs," Johnson said.

As for narcotics users, Johnson emphasized efforts to restore them to a productive roie in society.

He endorsed a proposed law, to be submitted shortly by the Justice Department, for a federal civil commitment procedure for users likely to respond to treatment and become rehabilitated.

And he proposed giving offenders a maximum opportuni-

Expansion of American Cultural Life Is Urged

NEW YORK (AP) — Expansion of the cultural side of American life was proposed today by a research panel as "an unprecedented challenge for democracy."

The group, completing an extended survey of the professional performing arts for the Rockefeller Brothers Fund, reported that those crafts are in trouble.

As interim goals, the study recommended creation of a number of new music, dance and theater organizations to serve all parts of the country at a cost above current expenditures of "not much over one-hundredth of one per cent of the nation's present annual income."

As the ultimate objective, it added: "the artistic goal of the nation must be the day when the performing arts are considered a permanent year-round contribution to communities throughout the country, and our artists are considered as necessary as our educators."

The survey is one of a series done under auspices of the fund, a private philanthropy which previously has examined foreign policy, military preparedness, education and social-economic topics.

"A process of reorientation is already under way," the report said of the theater. "It is a well-loved art form and the one that may have the best possibility of quickly developing wide, new support, cutting across all social and cultural lines."

In summary of other branches of art, the survey reported:

Opera — Most of the country has "no firsthand exposure to top-quality work."

Dance — Activities are "close to chaos."

Symphony Orchestras —"The longest established, most widely dispersed, most stable, but they face serious problems and a far from secure future."

Chamber Music — "The difficulties facing development of permanent, full-season groups are formidable."

Choral Music — "Less professional activity than in any phase of music."

Farm Union Optimistic on Ag Legislation

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Joseph W. Fichter, chairman of the Ohio Farmers Union, says the OFU is anticipating approval of "adequate farm legislation" this year.

Fichter returned home Sunday after leading a 40-member OFU delegation to Washington last week.

The Democrats in Congress have the votes "to pass adequate farm legislation this year, and some votes can be expected from the Republican minority," he said. His group met with Ohio's Democratic senators, and others, including Orville Freeman, secretary of agriculture.

Fichter said the OFU made several recommendations, including:

—That the present voluntary certificate program for wheat be extended on a five-year basis and that the cetificate value for family farmers be increased until the price per bushel brings parity of income.

—That the basic loan or support rate for corn be set at $1.10 per bushel with direct payments to family farmers increasing proportionately so as to reach parity of income, the same increase to apply to other feed grains.

—That the present price support legislation for dairy products be continued.

National Guard Merger Eyed

Ohio Units Slated For Eastern Tieup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's loss will be Pennsylvania's and New York's gain if first Gov. James A. Rhodes, then Congress approve the Pentagon's proposed merger of the Army Reserve and National Guard.

The merger would abolish Ohio's 37th National Guard Division and 83rd Reserve Infantry Division and replace them with brigades—about one-third the size of divisions — which would become part of New York and Pensylvania Guard divisions.

Ohio's over-all personnel would be reduced from the current 28,784 in both the Reserve and Guard to 24,422 in the Guard alone. The number of units would be trimmed from 345 to 236.

There now are 151 National Guard units with 13,991 personnel and 194 Army Reserve units

Blind Man Thrilled as Garden Talks

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joseph L. Sullivan, 44, blind since birth, walked through a "talking" Garden Sunday, an experience he said was like listening to Bach.

"Bach means something to one person, something else to another," he said. "Hearing that a flower is red with a pink center means something to me—I get a word picture as beautiful as sight."

The garden at the Cleveland Home and Flower Show is a preview of a garden for the blind to be opened in two months in Rockefeller Park on the east side.

The plants and flowers are described in braille. For those who can't read braille, a taped description is available for various flowers.

"Like some of those who have their sight, some blind people wouldn't get out a rocking chair to see a flower," Sullivan said. "But to those who love outdoor life, this garden means a great deal."

Rusk Says U.S. Marines To Return Any Red Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says there's no doubt that if American Marines in South Viet Nam are shot at, "they will shoot back."

But Rusk emphasized: "Their mission is the security of Da Nang air base."

Appearing Sunday on the CBS radio and television program "Face the Nation," Rusk said "it is not their misson to engage in the pacification operations.

"The fact that they are going in there will make it possible for the South Vetnamese forces who have been responsible for the local close-in defense of Da Nang to undertake those missions themselves."

Rusk said the 3,500 Marines are at Da Nang by request of the South Vietnamese government. The two Marine battalions began landing Sunday night by U.S. time, Monday by Saigon time.

The secretary also reiterated the American stand that any negotiations must be preceded by evidence that North Viet Nam will leave South Viet Nam alone.

Although refusing to go into what he called preconditions, Rusk said: "Almost every post-war negotiation that has managed to settle in some fashion some difficult and dangerous question has been preceded by some private indication behind the scenes that such a negotiation might be possible.

"That is missing here — that is missing here."

A direct clash with U.S. Marine units could result if the Red Viet Cong should try to attack the vital air and naval base complex at Da Nang on the South China Sea coast.

A major fight also could develop if Marine patrols make contact with guerrillas operating around the base area.

The Marines are likely to establish a defense perimeter with outposts, radio communications, and patrols roving the area.

Some of the Marine patrols are likely to reconoiter beyond their defense perimeter and, in doing so, could get into shooting scrapes with the Viet Cong.

If a major U. S.-Communist ground clash should flare, it would carry with it both an opportunity and a danger.

The opportunity: To deal a sharp and telling blow to the Viet Cong and to demonstrate to the Communists the risks they face if the United States should broaden its ground-war involvement.

It may be that the landing of the Marine battalions is one more U.S. signal designed to tell Red North Viet Nam and Red China that this country is determined to keep South Viet Nam free.

The danger: If the Marines should suffer a setback, US. prestige would be damaged throughout Southeast Asia and elsewhere.

Sources said the U.S. decision makers had debated for some time whether to send in Army or Marine units, finally deciding on the 3,500 Marines.

Ohio's Weekend Accidents Take Toll of 18 Lives

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio's traffic death toll for the weekend was the highest in a month, with 14 fatalities reported on the state's highways during the period from 6 p.m. Friday to Sunday midnight.

The toll was the highest since the Feb. 6-7 weekend, when 17 persons lost their lives in traffic mishaps.

The worst accident took the lives of three young women near Fremont Sunday night.

A father and his two sons died in a fire that destroyed their two-story brick home in suburban Toledo Sunday, and a Youngstown University senior died in a plane crash north of Canfield.

This hiked the over-all death toll for the weekend to at least 18.

Name Game Is Played With Solons

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Let's play a name game with the 106th General Assembly, where a Gray-Cloud resolution or a Pancake-Turner bill could conceivably pop up on the legislative docket.

The Gray-Cloud tag could develop if the Senate majority leader, Theodore M. Gray of Piqua, and the House speaker, Roger Cloud of Bellefontaine, cosponsored a joint resolution.

And there might be a Pancake-Turner bill in the Senate if Democrat Charles L. Pancake of Nelsonville and Republican Robin T. Turner of Tiffin got together and introduced a bipartisan proposal.

A Jones-Locker bill concerning marine salvage might be put forth by Reps. Samuel M. Jones III, R-Lucas, and Dale L. Locker, D-Shelby.

A Fuerst-Frost Bill might deal with aid to farmers hurt by an early fall cold snap. It would be proposed by Reps. Gerald E. Fuerst, D-Cuyahoga, and J. L. Frost, R-Brown.

And to regulate arclight baseball, there might be a Knight-Games Bill, sponsored by Reps. Howard A. Knight, R-Sandusky, and William C. Games, R-Adams.

Cincinnati Apartment Is Damaged by Blaze

CINCINNATI (AP) — The worst fire in 15 years struck suburban St. Bernard Sunday when residents of the May Clair Apartments were routed by a blaze that caused $375,000 damages.

Fire Chief Arthur Cruse said 19, of the apartments were occupied, including six of nine on the third floor, where most of the damage occurred. He said the fire started in the apartment of Mrs. Frances Lair, but the cause was still unknown.

4 Reigning Kings Expected at Rites

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Four reigning kings are expected to attend the state funeral Saturday of Queen Louise of Sweden, great-granddaughter of Britain's Queen Victoria.

Together with the 75-year-old queen's husband, King Gustaf VI Adolf, 82, Kings Frederik IX of Denmark, Olav VI of Norway and Constantine II of Greece are to walk in the funeral procession through the streets of Stockholm.

Queen Louise died in a Stockholm hospital Sunday, four days after emergency surgery for removal of a blood clot in her right leg. A change in her main artery, the aorta, caused her heart to falter.

Ohio Marine Is Freed in Shooting Case

MANILA (AP)—Two American Marines charged with negligent homicide in the killing of a Filipino trespasser at the Subic Bay Naval Base were acquitted today by a general court-martial.

The defendants were Lance Cpl. James B. Thomas of Martins Ferry, Ohio, and Cpl. Jesse A. Edwards of Sebastapol, Calif.

They were charged with the fatal shooting Dec. 13 of Gonzalo Villedo near the naval base magazine. Both were on sentry duty at the time.

It was the second trial resulting from a fatal shooting on a U. S. base which set off Filipino protest demonstrations.

On Feb. 26 Airman 1. C. Larry D. Cole of Marshall, Mich., was convicted of unpremeditated murder of a Filipino at a Clark Air Base bombing and gunnery range. He was sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

Thomas and Edwards testified that they fired warning shots on the night of Dec. 13 at a small boat off shore in which Villedo and his brother were. The brother said they were fishing.

The Marines' commanding officer said the two had acted properly.

Basketball Is Dribbled From Bryan to Lima

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Three Bryan High School seniors, in a bid to publicize Bryan High School's Class AA section basketball tournament Saturday night, dribbled a basketball from Bryan to Lima in 24 hours and 45 minutes.

The trio, David Newcomer, Frank Heyman and Charles Sloan, said they averaged about five miles an hour. They had to stop during the nighttime hours because of a police ruling.

Club-Swinging Alabama Troopers Face New Negro March Challenge

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — An attempted 50-mile march to the Alabama Capitol at Montgomery by Negroes pleading for civil rights erupted into bloody racial violence in a clash with state police Sunday.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says he will lead another attempted march Tuesday.

King decided to remain in Atlanta and did not, as planned, lead Sunday's march attempt by about 450 Negroes, which was broken up by blue-helmeted troopers wielding night sticks, shotguns, tear-gas grenades and wearing gas masks. About 40 Negroes were injured in the violent confrontation about a mile after the march began.

"If it has to be a path of blood, it is going to be established that Negroes have the right to walk on the highways of Alabama," said the Rev. James Bevel, a lieutenant in King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference. King was expected in Selma this evening.

The highway was cluttered with packs, bed rolls and other camping equipment when the melee ended. They had been left behind by Negroes fleeing the tear gas and the club-swinging state troopers.

The troopers later were joined by about 60 members of Sheriff James G. Clark's Dallas County Posse, some of them on horseback, who prodded and beat the Negroes back to the church from where the march started. The possemen shouted "Get the Niggers off the streets!" as they charged.

The Justice Department announced in Washington that FBI agents in Selma have been ordered to make a complete investigation to determine "whether unnecessary force was used by law officers and others" in halting the march. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said he was in touch with the situation.

Gov. George Wallace refused to comment.

About 100 troopers stopped the march under direct orders from Wallace. Maj. John Cloud, speaking over a loudspeaker, told the marchers to disperse and return to the church.

When they did not obey him,

Sanity Trial Is Approved For Jack Ruby

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown granted a defense motion today and set March 29 as the date for a sanity trial for condemned killer Jack Ruby.

Brown, who presided over the month-long murder trial which ended in the death verdict for Ruby March 14, 1964, said a jury will be empaneled to determine the sanity of the man who killed presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

Judge Brown said after today's 30-minute hearing that he was granting the motion for a sanity trial "to comply with orders of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals."

Ruby, a former night spot operator whose 54th birthday is March 25, has not been outside the Dallas County Jail for more than 10 months.

He was convicted last March 14 for the slaying of Oswald. It took place in the Dallas City Hall basement Nov. 24, 1963, two days after the assassination of President Kennedy. Oswald was being moved from the city to county jail.

Lorain School Vault Is Robbed of $900

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Burglars who apparently were after the gate receipts of the Lorain Class AA sectional basketball tournament broke into a walk-in vault at Admiral King High School and took $900 Sunday.

The money taken included the proceeds from concessions, programs and the check room. Gate receipts which may total $15,000, were deposited at a bank after each game.

ty for retorn to a normal life.

The President said he also will be passing along to Congress a proposal to soften requirements for mandatory minimum penalties when sentences are imposed.

In broad terms, Johnson recognized that combatting crime is, in many instances, a state and local responsibility. But he also recognized that there is room for federal activity and assistance.

Man of the President's recommendations were in keeping with what he had said on this issue during last year's presidential campaign and in his State of the Union message to Congress.

"Our system," Johnson said, "rejects the concept of a national police force. The protection responsibilities lie primarily with state and local governments. Yet, crime is no longer merely a local problem."

He said steps have been taken in response to a growing concern about crime, but the crime rate increases and the time has come to check it.

"I believe the way to do so," he said, "is to give new recognition to the fact that crime is a national problem — and to intensify our crime prevention and crime-fighting at all levels of government."

Injury List Heavy Here For Weekend

Berger Hospital staff members administered emergency aid during the weekend to Betty J. Draise, 35, Route 2, Williamsport, who suffered burns to her body after falling into a bathtub of hot water. She was transferred to University Hospital, Columbus.

Other persons treated and released were:

Harry Clark, 34, Route 1, who suffered burns to both eyes while welding.

Lucille Peters, 29, of 615 S. Scioto St., fell off a porch and fractured her right leg.

Christine Sisterman, 32, 213 W. Ohio St., lacerated a finger of her left hand while peeling potatoes.

Dale Lanman, 18, Route 3, suffered a laceration to his fore head while working on a car.

Children of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Conrad, Lancaster, were taken to the hospital for carbon monoxide intoxication. Treated were Arlene, 10, Betty 7, Helen, 2, and Lewis, 13.

'My Fair Lady' Wins Guild Award

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "My Fair Lady" won the Screen Producers Guild Award as the year's best movie, thus making it the odds-on Oscar favorite.

The win came before more than one thousand of Hollywood's biggest names at a Beverly Hilton banquet Sunday. In the past, Academy Award voters have traditionally followed the guild in the choice of best picture.

"Slattery's People" was named the year's best television show. Ironically, it has been dropped for next year.

City Fire Department Checks Odor Source

The Circleville Fire Department was called to the home of Mrs. Beverly J. Frary, 121 E. Water St., at 2:40 p. m. Saturday to determine the source of a gaseous odor.

A spokesman said the odor was caused by sewer gas.

Anti-Castroites Splatter Red Embassy in Capitol

WASHINGTON (AP) — Extra police have been stationed around the Soviet Embassy after five anti-Castro Cubans splattered black liquid on it in a surprise bottle-hurling protest.

The Cubans were arrested promptly charged with interfering with the property of a foreign government and jailed overnight. They said they were protesting last week's violent student demonstration against the U.S. Embassy in Moscow and also the continued presence of Soviet troops in Cuba.

The State Department reported that a telephone call of protest had been received from the Russians. The official who received the call expressed the department's regret at Sunday's incident.

It was understood that the subject of compensation had not been discussed in this initial exchange, said to have been at a relatively low diplomatic level.

Last Thursday hundreds of screaming Red Chinese, Vietnamese and African students stoned and splattered ink on the U.S. Embassy in Moscow. Red army reinforcements were required to quell the disorder after the demonstrators had beaten back police and scuffled with soldiers.

American diplomats, who have contended that the Soviet government provides insufficient protection for the U.S. building, filed a protest. The Soviet government apologized and promised compensation.

U.S. officials pointed out recently that no such demonstrations are permitted here. District of Columbia law forbids demonstrations within 500 feet of an embassy. A three-man detachment of police had been assigned to the Soviet Embassy here since last Thursday.

The five men arrested were members of a group of 75 anti-Castro Cubans who came here from the New York metropolitan area to picket the embassy. At the time of the bottle hurling the rest of the pickets were parading a block and a half from the embassy.

Policemen at the embassy were taken by surprise when the five Cubans suddenly hurled soft drink bottles filled with black liquid at the embassy.

Before police could hustle them away, they scored four direct hits, splattering the walls on both sides of the entrance and hitting some shutters on a second-story window of the four-story mansion.

Fine of $100 Levied for No License

Owen Knox, 26, Columbus, was fined $100 and costs and handed a three-day suspended jail sentence when he entered a plea of guilty to driving while his license was revoked.

Other motorists on the court docket, all cited by the State Highway Patrol for speeding, were:

Jack D. Webb, 32, Detroit, Mich., and Roscoe Prater, 38, Salyersville, Ky., were both fined $10 and costs for speeding 60 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Fined $15 and costs were:

Liane Shields, 36, Columbus; George F. Herbst, 22, Columbus; Herbert C. Young, 32, Elkview, W. Va.; Harry A. Carpenter, 40, Magnolia; Marlin Hudnal, 22, Glasgow, W. Va.; Robert A. Eckman, 23, Columbus; Rupert Harrell, 26, Columbus; Thomas Knipp, 37, Mansfield.

Fined $20 and costs were:

Robert Evans, 28, Columbus; George E. Newsome, 19, Hi Hat, Ky.; Lawrence Wilkerson, 29, Handley, W. Va.

Donald D. Miller, 21, Route 1; $25 and costs for speeding 75 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

James Engel, 31, Columbus; $19 bond forfeiture for speeding 60 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Auto Rolls Away, Stops in Yard

City police investigated an accident of the unusual variety Saturday afternoon.

Officers said a car owned by Ralph Wolfe, Route 4, was parked at the Prairie Lanes Recreation Center lot. The driverless vehicle rolled out of the lot, crossed County Road 511 (N. Court St.) and came to a halt in the yard of Myron Schelb.

Sgt. Turney Ross said the rear of the car was slightly damaged, as was the Schelb mailbox.

Music Teachers Fund Distributed To County Schools

The balance in the Pickaway County Music Teachers Fund was distributed to the three school districts, it was announced today by George D. McDowell, county superintendent.

Each district received $161. The money was the accumulated income from past county music festivals, McDowell pointed out and was used to pay expenses incurred.

However, there will be no further music festivals in which the county schools participate as a unit, the superintendent said.

Each of the individual districts will hold its own Spring Music Festival this year.

with 14,793 personnel.

The proposed plans were given to Maj. Gen. Erwin C. Hostetler, Ohio adjutant general, at a Pentagon briefing over the weekend. He was to present them to the governor today, who has been urged to accept them and submit an organization plan to the Army.

The 37th, which fought in both the first and second world wars and was activated during the Korean conflict, would become a brigade of New York's 42nd Infantry Division, National Guard, while the 83rd, a veteran of World War II, would be a part of the 28th Infantry Division, Pennsylvania National Guard.

Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara's proposal for merging the Guard and Reserves would become effective between next July 1, and March 31, 1966, if they receive the necessary approvals.

Job Assignments Listed At Du Pont Film Plant Here

SAM SBERNA

RONALD BERLIN

A transfer and a new appointment have been announced by officials at Du Pont's Circleville film plant.

Appointed a quality control supervisor in "Teflon" manufacturing was Sam Sberna, 511 Forest Drive. The transfer concerns Ronald E. Berlin who has been assigned here from the company's Yerkes plant in Buffalo, N.Y.

Sberna studied pre-engineering at Bowling Green State University and was graduated from Ohio State University where he was awarded a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering.

He started with Du Pont in 1955. Much of his experience has been in the sales division of the film department. Prior to his new appointment, he served as a product inspection supervisor and research engineer in the "Mylar" plant.

SBERNA and his wife, Margaret, have three children. They are Jane Ann, 9, Julie Ann, 7, and Mary Pat, 2.

Berlin has been assigned as an instrument supervisor. He and his wife, Karmen, live at 1188 Atwater Ave. They have three children, Jon Kent, 6, Eric Michael, 5, and Craig Thomas, 1.

The instrument supervisor was a pre - engineering student at North Central College in Illinois and was graduated from the University of Illinois with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering. He served three years in the Marine Corps.

Berlin began his tenure with Du Pont in 1960. At the Yerkes plant he worked as an electrical engineer in the projects section, a foreman in works engineering and as a shift supervisor in the power department.

Plat Accepted By Commission

A plat listing seven lots in Washington Twp. was accepted today by the Board of County Commissioners.

The proposal was submitted by Robert H. Huffer and Merle E. Swank. According to an engineer's draft, it represents section No. 1 of a development known as Elm Grove Estates.

The area is along the Bolender-Pontius Road just south of Route 188 and northwest of Hargus Lake.

Lots within the area were listed as 150 by 270.87 feet. The section includes 7.33 acres.

Bomb Threat Closes Schools in Greenville

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—City officials ordered all public schools closed today because of a bomb threat received Sunday night by the assistant superintendent of schools.

The school official, W.T. Maxwell, said a man phoned him and said a bomb was in the high school, set to go off between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m. today.

Police searched the building thoroughly and found no bomb, but the city safety director recommended the school closings.

One-Time Western Star Still Cheerful in New Job

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Johnny Mack Brown has a new card to go with the one he carries with the Screen Actors Guild. It announces that he is public relations director of a Hollywood car leasing firm.

You can find Johnny in an office in the midst of a big car lot on Hollywood Boulevard. He's 60 now, and his figure has expanded from the years when he was hopping on and off horses for dear old Monogram. But he retains his native Alabaman charm and cheerful outlook that marked his 35-year career in films.

What is he doing in the car-leasing business?

"Well, the movie business seemed to fold up and go overseas for a while there," he explained. "That made it rough on some of us. You can't just wait around for something to happen. I learned a long time ago that it's nice to be active. So when this chance came along. . . I took it."

Johnny noted that the picture business has been returning to its Hollywood headquarters, and he took time off from his job to appear in two recent films, "Requiem for a Gunfighter" and "The Bounty Killer." He will be receptive to other offers; meanwhile he pursues his new job.

The passing of film glory has embittered other stars, but not Johnny. "It's all been so very pleasant," he reflected. "I have nothing but happy memories."

He mused over some of them. He was one of the early athlete-actors of films, having attracted notice after starring in the Alabama- Washington Rose Bowl game of 1926.

When Johnny returned to the Rose Bowl as an assistant coach the following year, he was tested by MGM, Fox and Paramount. MGM was the first to call with a contract offer. Johnny, who had just married the college sweetheart who is still his wife, decided to take it.

Johnny shifted comfortably into westerns at Universal and Monogram. As the western market dwindled, so did his acting career.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield Community Enrollment Set

Blue Cross and Blue Shield will hold their 20th annual community enrollment for residents of Circleville and Pickaway County on Mar. 11 and 12. Headquarters for the operatoin will be the City Loan Co. office on W. Main St.

This is a different month for the Community Enrollment than in past years. A revision in Blue Cross sales department procedures, designed to provide better service to each group account in each of the 29 counties served by Central Hospital Service, brought about the change from the traditional community enrollment schedule in each county.

Persons meeting these eligibility requirements may enroll: those in reasonably good health, regardless of age, who are self-employed or working where there are less than five employes.

The expanded benefit 70-day 80-20 contract will be the coverage offered to non - group enrollees under age 65. The coverage features 70 days of hospital care per year.

Other special benefits include care for nervous and mental disorders, out-patient surgical care and emergency x-ray and infant coverage from birth.

These benefits are in addition to many major hospital services covered under every Blue Cross contract. Blue Shield applicants will be enrolled under the special preferred contract which provides doctor bill coverage of up to $300 for surgical procedures with benefits for genera' anesthesia and doctors' visits to hospital medical patients.

In addition, employe groups may also upgrade their coverage through a series of group endorsements or improved basic group plans.

A Blue Cross representative will be on duty at enrollment headquarters during office hours to answer questions about Blue Cross and Blue Shield.

Nuns Zip Through Hospital Aboard Electric Scooters

GRANITE CITY, Ill. (AP)— The salesman from the drug firm was talking to the coffee shop manager at St. Elizabeth Hospital here when he saw it.

He turned to the manager, raised his right hand and said: "I haven't touched a drop today but I just saw a nun fly down the hall."

The manager assured him he wasn't losing his mind. What he had seen was Sister Mary Thomas, the hospital administrator, riding — not flying — on one of the hospital's nine battery-powered scooters. The lower part of a glass and wood wall around the coffee shop had hidden the scooter from the salesman's view.

Sister Mary Thomas says the scooters give nurses and other hospital employes more freedom of movement. The nuns, nurses, clerical personnel and doctors ride them.

She says the yellow scooters, which cost about $135 each, were donated to the hospital by various individuals and organizations. The scooters have been in use since January.

"Nurses and doctors can do more work with the scooters than they could do without them," says Sister Mary Thomas. "Our halls are exceptionally long here and the travel time from one end to another is cut considerably when you don't have to walk."

She said the hospital employes still get enough exercise "to satisfy the drive for physical fitness."

Top speed for the scooters is 5 miles an hour. Those who operate the machines must take a driving course and observe strict safety rules.

"They're very safe," the administrator says, "and besides, all the scooters have been blessed and each one carries a St. Christopher's medal." St. Christopher is the patron saint of travelers. The Scooters haven't been involved in an accident yet.

The World's Hungry Millions

Starvation Amid Lush Prosperity Could Bring Anarchy, Brutal War

Editor's Note — In an era of unprecedented prosperity more than two billion people are hungry, and widespread famine is a possibility in the near future. The following first of five articles on the world food supply — or lack of it — outlines the challenges man faces to avoid anarchy and war resulting from starvation.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Ap Special Correspondent

Frightening specters haunt the rich North Atlantic world today.

These are the specters of widespread famine, pestilence, violence and ultimately war, less than a generation from now.

Men may be able to keep their fingers away from the trigger which would exterminate millions in nuclear clouds. Can mankind meet the other awesome challenge?

While the North Atlantic world rejoices in an era of unparalleled prosperity, scientisits sound a grave warning: the inexorable mathematics of hunger can mean catastrophe is around the corner, probably less than 15 years away.

Hunger has a vareity of forms: malnutrition, or lack of proteins, minerals and vitamins: undernutrition, or just not enough of any food, and starvation.

People in these categories are numerous enough to fill Metropolitan New York 160 times over. If they stood in single file, two feet apart, the line would circle the globe 25 times. Two years or less from now, there would be another circle, and then more at more frequent intervals. These are the hungry.

The United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization estimates that one person in every two in the world is badly nourished, one in three is chronical hungry, one in 8 or 10 is undernourished. Nearly two-thirds of the world's people know some form of hunger.

These are just some of the grim statistics compiled by researchers contemplating a terrifying equation of population growth and food supply. Experts say that before long, famine can present the rich nations — their people outnumbered 2-1 by the hungry—with dangers as great as or greater than those emanating from the clash of ideologies.

"If present trends continue," says Dr. Raymond Ewell, vice president for research at the State University of New York in Buffalo and an authority on the subject, "it seems likely famine will reach serious proportions in India, Pakistan and China in the early 1970s, followed by Indonesia, Iran, Turkey, Egypt, and Brazil, then followed by most of the other countries of Asia, Africa and Latin America by 1980.

"Such a famine will be of massive proportions, affecting hundreds of millions, possibly even billions of persons. If this happens, as appears very probable, it will be the most colossal catastrophe in history."

To meet the challenge will take time and international cooperation, both scarce commodities.

"We have the skills and the scientific knowledge," says FAO Director General Binay Ranjan Sen. "What we need is the will."

Most experts agree that more than two billion of the world's 3.3 billion people are hungry.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture says diet deficit areas are: Asia (except Japan), the Near East (except Israel) most of Central America and the Caribbean, northern and equatorial South America much of Africa. Oddly, hunger is most prevalent south of the 38th Parallel.

A small group of nations with 16 per cent of the population has 70 per cent of the world's wealth. These are nations grouped around the North Atlantic, along with Japan, and Australia-New Zealand.

Two-thirds of the human race barely subsists. Most of the hungry are nonwhite. On the average they eat 900 less calories daily than those in the white, developed third of humanity. But calories are meaningless when two out of three have less than nutritional requirements in any event.

India eats 24 per cent less than it needs in nutrition. Americans eat 17 per cent more than they need. In general, people in developed nations eat two to three times more than the poor ones. North America consumes nearly five times more food per person than is eaten on the Asian mainland.

Americans, only 6 per cent of the world's people, have 40 per cent of the world income. About 1.4 billion people in about 100 countries have an average income per person of under $100 a year, 30 times less than President Johnson says should be the bare minimum for a U.S. married couple.

The FAO says that in the 1963-1964 fiscal year, the world produced less food per person than the year before. Deficits likely will grow.

The U.S. Agriculture Department says the food problem in poor countries can be the most insoluble problem that humanity faces in the next few decades. Production cannot keep up with rapid population growth without substantial changes in world agricultural policies.

Americans and the developed world now are concerning themselves with the problem. It is a staggering one, laden with ominous political and social conotations. Once the hungry did not know there was hope. Today, there is swift communication. People know. Hopes are aroused. But if ascending hopes clash with bitter disappointment, danger is near.

The southern areas of the world, for the most part, are in the grip of frustration. The northern areas wax richer all the time, their capacity to produce wealth constantly expanding. People in the north — even the poorest — are rich beyond the dreams of the poor in the southern parts.

The mathematics of violence is all too clear. There is an invitation in the poor lands to seek overnight solutions to their woes, solutions offered from such sources as the witch doctors of communism. The temptation is to seek the quick, violent answer.

Next: Death control.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

No politician ever did more for business than Thomas Jefferson. He inveted the swivel chair.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Even government computers can't figure out women. And so the jobless rate bounced upward in February after just as unexpectedly dropping in January.

Many Americans, confused by all the inconsistencies in the unemployment picture as officially reported each month, are about ready to ask: Will the real jobless rate please stand up?

An unusual number of adult women said they wanted to work last month but couldn't find jobs. Other classifications in the labor force followed pretty much the normal trend for a February.

But the women didn't. And the Labor Department statisticians say they're at a loss for "any clear economic reason" for 100,000 more women than usual being listed among the jobless.

The result was that the rate for all the labor force went back to 5 per cent, the December figure, after dropping promisingly to 4.8 per cent in January, the lowest since October 1957.

The rate is the percentage of the labor force that wants to work but can't. And the labor force is the sum of those with jobs and those who are looking in vain. Each month a fluctuating number of persons don't want or need jobs, or are admittedly unemployable.

The government has been trying hard to find a way to get the rate of unemployment down to 4 per cent. And President Johnson's Great Society calls for a goal of around 3 per cent as more acceptable.

Among adult women the jobless rate rose from 4.5 per cent in January to 5.1 per cent in February, a sizable jump since normal seasonal changes were taken into account. But for married men, known to the statisticians as breadwinners, February saw a drop to 2.6 per cent from January's 2.7 per cent.

If the number of married men out of work increases sharply, the reason is presumed to be that the number of jobs has been crimped.

But women enter or leave the labor force for less predictable reasons.

It often depends on conditions at home, on the availability of the specific kind of work they want, on whether their husbands are suddenly making a lot of overtime or just as suddenly are put on short weeks.

Charting the course of unemployment today also is complicated by the changing economy. Jobs in the services are booming, but factories are turning out more goods with fewer workers because of new machinery. Cascading paper work multiplied office jobs, but now various machines are taking over much of that.

And each year new techniques call for new skills, for which there often is a scarcity of available workers. At the same time skills learned years ago are becoming obsolete.

Still, the biggest hurdle of all in the race against unemployment is what happened 15 to 20 years ago. Youngsters born then will be entering the labor force at around 1.5 million a year for the rest of this decade.

Those who have learned needed skills may have little trouble, but the untrained and the school dropouts may keep that jobless rate tough for the statisticians, even without the unpredictableness of adult women.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Can there be side-effects from taking hormones for a long time?

Hormones are the products of the endocrine or ductless glands. They work harmoniously with each other and normally maintain a state of delicate balance. They affect and influence the function of all the organs of the body.

When hormones are prescribed to compensate for a known deficiency, the physician carefully watches for any of the side-effects which may occur.

All drugs — and hormones in particular — must not be continued indefinitely without the specific direction and strict supervision of a physician.

What is the best antidote if someone swallows a poison?

The best emergency treatment for most poisonings is to induce immediate vomiting.

If the victim is conscious give him first one tablespoonful of baking soda mixed in a glass of warm water, and then have him drink large quantities of plain warm water.

Trickling the back of the throat with a finger, or with a blunt, unbreakable wooden or plastic stick usually helps to make him gag and vomit.

Eggs and milk are beneficial antidotes for many types of poisonings.

Waste no time in getting the victim to a hospital for stomach - pumping. Most hospitals have poison control centers which are organized to handle these emergencies.

How long after the change of life can a woman assume that she can no longer become pregnant?

In the menopausal phase (change of life), pregnancy usually is considered to be no longer possible after a woman has gone for one year with no natural menstruation. But exceptions to this rule can and do occur.

Consultation with a physician will give welcome support and reassurance during this important period of physical and emotional transition.

Can the symptoms of appendicitis be confused with other conditions?

The diagnosis of appendicitis is probably one of the most difficult ones that confronts the physician and the surgeon.

Te so - called "classic" symptoms of appendicitis may even be caused by conditions as unrelated as early pneumonia, or pleurisy of the lungs.

Something as remote as a throat infection, which produces swollen glands in the neck, may also cause enlargement of the glands around the intestines. This irritation in the abdomen may cause false symptoms of "appendicitis".

But it is never wise to assume that the symptoms may be false. When there is a strong suspicion of appendicitis, surgery is often the safest and most conservative procedure to follow. If appendicitis does exist, delaying surgery as the "last resort" may result in serious complications.

Points for LBJ

By John Chamberlain

DALLAS, Tex. — In knocking around the middle to south-central West for a couple of weeks, with stops in places like Indianapolis and Dallas that were once strongholds of Republican conservatism, one comes upon some odd moods. Republicans who would like to be against Lyndon Johnson find themselves either approving his foreign policy or, at the very least, keeping their fingers crossed.

Lyndon has been standing up to a chorus of denunciation of American policy in South Vietnam that includes the shrill accents of Izvestia, the threats of Kosygin, the unspeakable remarks of U Thant, and the protests of various "students" connected with the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs, in a way that Republicans, from "extreme" to moderate, find it hard to fault. Thus a Republican veteran of the Dallas political wars, one whose pro-Rightist "body chemistry", as he puts it, kept him in the Goldwater camp even after the murder of John F. Kennedy had shellshocked conservatives, says, "I'm not saying a thing against Lyndon. The atmosphere in Washington for patriotic Americans is better than it has been in five years." The veteran would boggle against having the commendation of LBJ attributed to him, for he expects to be engaged in partisan political warfare in the future. But his reluctant admiration for Johnson's refusal to cut and run in South Vietnam is rather typical.

And, as it must seem to a lot of people who voted for Nixon and Goldwater in successive Presidential campaigns on the "opposition to Communism" issue, Lyndon Johnson has been reverting to his pre-convention stance of 1960, when, with a cutting glance at the Kennedy camp, he announced that he would not apologize to Khrushchev.

It is all "for real", as the adolescents might ask? A lot of people are pinching themselves, but it remains true that good things have been happening on all the recently boiling fronts in the anti-Communist struggle. Senator Thomas Dodd, whose information about central Africa is always "hard", gets the news that Soviet arms supposedly destined for anti - Tshombe rebels in the Congo have been intercepted just short of tropical Africa by anti - Communist rebels in the Sudan. And in Burundi, which was a center of Red Chinese machinations bordering on the Congo, the infiltrating Marxist have been booted out.

With Tshombe maintaining himself in power in the Congo in spite of the Russian and Algerian attempts to build up a good Communist armory at Juba in the Sudan, it comes as no surprise to hear that Michel Struelens is picking up the reins he dropped a long time ago as Tshombe's representative in the United States. Struelens, it will be remembered, was once threatened with deportation by the State Department for daring to open an information office to state the case for Tshombe's rule in Katanga.

Even more heartening to conservative Republicans who feared that Johnson would be all too accommodating toward the Communists is the news that South Korean soldiers have been sent to South Vietnam. This could be the harbinger of a sizeable gathering of anti-Communist Asians on the front where international Communism is conducting its most menacing probing action. The employment of an Asian legion in South Vietnam has been advocated by General Albert Wedemeyer for a long time now. And if McNamara is going to follow through on his promise to help increase the size of the South Vietnamese army, it may be that Filipinos and Formosa Chinese will be welcome auxiliaries in that augmented force.

The picture is encouraging to the strong of heart whether they are Republicans or Democrats. And thus it is becoming mighty hard for many conservatives to attack the Johnson Administration with any vim.

Of course, the whole business could change if there were a deal that would let the Communists lay a disintegrating role inside a "neutralized" South Vietnam. But Lyndon seems to have "drawn a line" at the border of North Vietnam and in the Congo. This does not make him a "globalist"; it merely commits him to stabilizing the balance between the two worlds as he finds it. It is Texas pragmatism but with its back up.

Every Chrysler is quick, too. A 383 cu. in. V-8 (that runs on regular gas) is standard equipment on our lowest-priced models.

Now comes the best part. Nearly half of our 1965 Chryslers are priced just a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars, comparably equipped. That figure gets you power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission, radio and heater.

'Great Society' Outline Starts To Shape Up

Johnson's basic plan would provide hospital, nursing home and some outpatient services financed through a separately accounted addition to the Social Security payroll tax.

House Democratic leaders have promised to seek speedy action once the committee unveils its proposal.

One major Great Society bill already has reached Johnson's desk, after a display of Democratic power in the House. That is the $1.1-billion program of highways and other development projects for impoverished sections of the Appalachian Mountain area.

Democratic votes buried 16 Republican attempts to amend the measure Wednesday, and sent it to Johnson just as the Senate passed it on Feb. 1. The President planned to sign the bill today.

Johnson has asked Congress to double, to about $1.5 billion, his program aimed at helping poverty - stricken Americans make an economic comeback.

Powell has outlined plans to send out four committee task forces to see how the program is working now. The House chairman already has indicated he favors the stepped-up drive against poverty. So far no Senate hearings have been set.

Here is the situation on other key proposals Johnson has promised or sent to Congress:

1. A $1.75-billion cut in federal excise taxes will be next on the Ways and Means Committee agenda once the medical care bill is cleared. Something has to be done about that by June 30, when those year-to-year taxes expire.

2. Legislation liberalizing federal aid provisions of the water pollution control program has cleared the Senate, and the House Public Works Committee is at work on the version it will send to the floor. That is one aspect of Johnson's call for a more beautiful America.

3. There have been partial hearings in the Senate, none so far in the House, on his proposal for a $1.2-billion program to create 32 regional health centers over a five year period. He recommended that in calling for a drive against killing diseases.

4. The President has yet to send Congress the proposals he promised for extension of the minimum-wage law to cover 2 million additional workers and for an overhaul of the unemployment compensation system.

5. Johnson's proposals for new measures aimed at curbing crime in the United States may go to Congress today. The Justice Department still is working on legislation to guarantee Negro voting rights, the lone civil-rights measure Johnson has said he will recommend.

6. Nothing has been done about Johnson's suggestion that Congress prepare in advance for quick action on a tax cut in case a recession threatens the economy. Administration officials indicate their idea is to have a stand-by tax cut bill ready for speedy action in Congress if that becomes necessary. That would avert long committee considration.

7. Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Con., has promised quick Senate hearings on Johnson's call for a new Cabinet Department of Housing and Urban Development.

8. Senate hearings probably will open in about three weeks on Johnson's housing program, which includes a $200-million system of rent subsidies for lower - income families. In the House committee action is likely to be delayed because the housing subcommittee has yet to be organized for the current congressional session.

9. Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman J. W. Fulbright is opposing Johnson's foreign-aid package. Fulbright favors the theory of foreign aid and does not criticize the total involved. But he wants the $2.2 billion worth of foreign economic aid and the $1.17-billion military-aid requests handled separately. He has said he will not serve as floor manager of an omnibus aid bill.

But in the House, Foreign Affairs Committee Chairman Thomas E. Morgan favors the traditional single-bill approach. His committee is conducting hearings on the measure now.

Paper Published At New Holland

The New Holland Leader was published for the first time Friday since the Feb. 18 death of its publisher, Laurence Hunter.

Hunter had owned and published the paper for the past 15 years.

Mrs. Mary Jo Hunter, his widow, took over the task of publishing the Leader with the help of Floyd W. James, a former owner-publisher.

Mrs. Hunter said she hopes to sell the Leader.

KITE FLYING SAFETY — Kite flying time is here. The Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., has started its annual spring campaign to help promote safety habits in the sport so popular with youngsters and adults. The program centers on simple rules to follow, including occasions when a kite becomes entangled in a power line. The first step is to contact the electric company. A crewman is shown here removing a kite caught in a power line.

Dems Prepare For '66 Polls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democrats have set up a personalized electronic information service to help their lopsided congressional majority weather the 1966 off-year election.

Getting special attention are the 71 freshmen members of the House. Most of them are from closely divided or normally Republican districts and they are likely to be the chief targets of the GOP.

Using a relatively small staff and a few telephones and tape recorders, the Democratic National Committee has left the Republicans far behind in political communications.

The Democrats can get comments from representatives and senators into the hands of radio and television stations in their districts almost simultaneously with the passage of legislation or the annoucement of government contracts.

Recordings of comments by President Johnson and other top administration officials are available daily.

In contrast, the Republican National Committee has just started a weekly five-minute broadcast, available thus far only through state and county GOP chairmen. The GOP has no service at all to compare with Democratic efforts on behalf of individual congressmen.

Dictating the Democratic drive is the history of midterm elections.

In 1938, two years after President Franklin D. Roosevelt's landslide victory, the Democrats dropped 75 House seats. Other midterm declines have been less severe, but 1934 is the only time in the last half century that the party in power gained.

Of the 295 Democrats in the House — there are 140 Republicans — 45 may be especially vulnerable in 1966, running, as they will have to, without the benefit of Johnson's coattails.

To keep the congressmen in touch with their districts, the Democratic committee supplies radio and television scripts and material for newsletters, transmits statements by teletype to newspapers and distributes recorded events to radio and television stations.

Five contact men at party headquarters have been assigned specifically to the 71 House freshmen to give them ideas and show them what services are available. One of them, John Meek, said his main job is "to save them a lot of time."

The biggest innovation is the actuality service, directed by Jerry Huard, the National Committee's radio-television chief.

"People have been sending stuff to radio stations from mimeograph machines," Huard said. "That's of no use to them at all."

A congressman need only call the National Committee and have his statement taken over the telephone. Huard, or one of his two assistants, then calls the radio and television stations in the district, offering the recorded statement.

Huard says the service has been useful especially to congressmen from sprawling, rural districts.

"What better way has he got of reaching his constituency?" he asked.

Harold Brayman, director of the Public Relations Department of the Du Pont Co., will retire March 31. He has headed this activity of the company for 21 years, establishing a concept of public relations which has been widely emulated throughout the nation.

More than a hundred persons, leading figures in industry and the public relations profession, will honor Brayman at a dinner in New York Mar. 29. Members of Du Pont's Public Relations Department will honor him at a dinner in the Hotel du Pont Mar. 31. He will be 65 years old Mar. 10.

He plans to devote much of his time in the near future to writing a book concerning the problems facing American business.

Brayman came t Du Pont in 1942 from Washington, where for many years he was a distinguished news correspondent. He wrote for many papers during his career, but served longest the New York Evening Post, the Evening Ledger of Philadelphia, and the Houston Chronicle. He was president of the National Press Club in 1938 and the Gridiron Club in 1941.

In 1963 he was awarded the citation of the Public Relations Society of America for "distinguished service in the advancement of public relations". He was also named "Public Relations Professional of 1963" by the "Public Relations News".

Establishment of a new appliance, container and coil coatings department has been announced by Guy J. Berghoff, vice president and general manager of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's Coatings and Resins Division.

Richard T. Ubben has been named head of the new department which will establish headquarters by mid-1965 at Delaware, Ohio.

PPG has under construction at Delaware a large plant designed specifically for the manufacture of appliance, container coatings, coil coatings, and automobile refinishes. Under construction since last June, the new unit is scheduled for completion by mid-year.

Glass fiber — one of the most versatile manufacturing materials — was unknown to housewives and drapers until the early 1930s.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's been a strange month for President Johnson and others, including Red China, Russia, Israel, West Germany, East Germany, Egypt, Indonesia, North and South Viet Nam, and Cuban refugees.

All got mixed up in violence, confusion or rebuffs these past 30 days.

Johnson, like a man walking a sandbar in a sea of troubles, had managed to stay pretty clear of foreign dilemmas for most of his presidency, and then suddenly he got drenched in them.

More and more of his time is being consumed by problems overseas. What's strange is the way he's handling them, compared with the way he had handled others.

Last April 22 he could hardly get to the television cameras soon enough to tell the American people the long drawn-out railroad dispute was settled.

And he went on television Aug. 4, when North Vietnamese PT-boats fired on American destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin, to announce he had ordered a retaliatory bombing raid on North Viet Nam bases.

Recently he has done the opposite, staying away from television and news conferences since Feb. 7 when he ordered another bombing strike on North Viet Nam after Red guerrillas attacked an American air base in South Viet Nam.

Over the weekend he ordered 3,500 U.S. Marines into South Viet Nam to protect the U.S. base at Da Nang. Johnson aides have said this country would like to negotiate a settlement if North Viet Nam would indicate a willingness.

But all this has left some big unknowns. Will the bombing cool North Viet Nam's martial spirit? Will the Marines get into ground fighting with Red guerrillas? Just how far does Johnson intend to extend the war? What will Russia and Red China do?

In American-backed South Viet Nam some Buddhists have started calling for peace.

Meanwhile the Communist world is having its troubles.

In Moscow, 2,000 Asian students rioted in front of the U.S. Embassy to protest the bombing raids. They smashed windows, smeared the building with ink, fought with Soviet police and troops.

In Red China, 300 Chinese students demonstrated in front of the Soviet Embassy in Peiping to protest the Soviet police action in Moscow against the anti-American rioters.

The United States protested to Russia that the Soviet police hadn't given the American Embassy enough protection and Sunday refugees from Fidel Castro's Cuba demonstrated against the Soviet Embassy in Washington, hitting the building with bottles of black liquid. Six were arrested.

The refugees explained they were reacting against last week's violent student demonstration against the U.S. Embassy. But their action opened the door for a Soviet protest that American police hadn't given the Soviet Embassy enough protection. And the Russians promptly protested to the State Department.

The last thing West Germany wanted was to see Egypt's President Nasser invite East Germany's Communist boss, Walter Ulbricht, to Cairo. To butter up Nasser, the Bon government stopped an American-supported arms program for Israel.

But Nasser invited Ulbricht to Egypt and treated him handsomely. West Germany felt so rebuffed it decided to stop further economic aid to Egypt and offered to establish full diplomatic relations with Israel.

In a Moscow meeting of Communist parties from around the world the American raids on North Viet Nam were denounced. But this was supposed to be a Communist unity meeting, long arranged, and it was anything but.

Only 19 of 25 Communist parties showed up — the stayaways included Red China and its satellites — and reports indicate there wasn't any grand harmony among those who did attend.

And the United States began to get fed up —although it was a forced feeding —with Indonesia whose President Sukarno quit the United Nations, the first ever to do so.

Indonesian mobs repeatedly had wrecked American libraries and Sukarno not only closed them but seized American rubber plantations. After all this the U.S. Information Agency it was ending all activities in Indonesia, the first time this country had done that anywhere.

Girl Scout Observance Under Way Here

National Girl Scout Month is observed during March and special emphasis on national Girl Scout week is now in progress.

Various activities are being conducted by area Scout groups. The story of Scouting in this area is illustrated in the window of the Economy Loan office with a rotating Council display. It will remain there through Mar. 12.

Eloise M. Gruber, public relations director of the Seal of Ohio Girl Scout Council, offered these comments on Girl Scouting:

"Juliette Low, the founder of Girl Scouting in the United States, once said, "Scouting and guiding can be the magic thread which links the youth of the world together through the efforts of organizers, leaders, and scouts throughout the world.

"Girls and adults in over 65 counties are now part of the World Association of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides. When they visit other countries they live with sister members, camp with them, join in their troop activities and community events and see historic landmarks together.

"Most of all, "International Friendship" begins at home — in the Scout's own community, where she first knows and learns to respect people of many nationalities, faiths and races."

Booth Exhibit Planned by Circleville GC

Initial plans were made for a booth exhibit at the Fair when members of the Circleville Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. C. C. McClure, S. Pickaway St.

A beautification project for the Pickaway County Fairground was discussed and the recent Flower Shower in Columbus was reviewed.

On recognition of the 325th anniversary of The Ohio Association of Garden Clubs, Mrs. Leora Sayre, president, supervised a review - discussion of pertinent facts and statistics related to the organization and procedures of the State, Regional County, and Club organizations.

"Roots and Bulbs" was the subject used by William Cook for the concluding horticulture portion of the program. He explained the differences and detailed several new and renewing procedures for the most successful storing, planting and growing.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting, April 1, will be in the home of Mrs. Leo F. Sines Sr.

Covered Dish Supper Held by Auxiliary

Members of The Auxiliary of the Eagles held a covered dish supper and white elephant sale Thursday evening.

Plans were discussed for a Hobo Dinner and Dance next month. It was reported that the Max Baer Heart Fund Card Party was a success.

The next meeting, Mar. 18 will feature initiation of new members.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

A Kiss Is a Kiss But . . .

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the four-year-old who embarrassed his mother when she asked him to kiss the woman who had sat with him and he said, "I DON'T KISS OLD LADIES" I think the mother was lacking in wisdom. She never should have asked the boy to kiss the woman. I do not believe in ordering a child to kiss anyone - especially outsiders. Most children have better sense than adults because they are usually reluctant to kiss outsiders (and even relatives) when commanded to do so. Also, many "outsiders" find it unpleasant to be kissed by other people's children. A kiss loses its value when it is not voluntary and spontaneous. And mothers who make a habit of instructing their children to kiss people are guilty of showing off.

WITHHOLD MY NAME

DEAR ABBY: This is for the elderly "sitter" whose feelings were hurt when a little four-year-old was told to kiss her, and replied, "I DON'T KISS OLD LADIES": Where is your sense of humor? When my 5-year-old godson saw me after not having seen me for a long time, and his mother told him to kiss me, he said, "I have to get used to her face first." It's been a good many years since that happened, but I still laugh out loud everytime I think of it.

"FUNNYFACE"

DEAR ABBY: The mother who tried to get her little four-year-old to kiss "dear old Mrs. Hansen for looking after you today," is probably the same mother who will one day throw up her hands in despair when her daughter rewards her date with kisses (or more) for "the lovely evening," even though she doesn't particularly like the person.

Kisses are supposed to express affection, not gratitude. To express gratitude, one says, "Thank you."

ANOTHER

DEAR ABBY: The letter regarding the little boy who, when his mother instructed him to kiss elderly Mrs. Hansen, said, "I DON'T KISS OLD LADIES," pointed up something far more symptomatic of our times than children's rudeness. The child's mother typifies the 20th century mother, whose behavior is, I am convinced, the reason why we have so much sexual promiscuity in our present-day society. Our young people are utterly confused about kisses and what they should mean. To see toddlers, too young to know better, going around a room bestowing their precious kisses on one stranger after another because Mamma said, "Go give everyone a big kiss goodnight," is sickening indeed. It teaches children early that kisses are cheap and meaningless. I do wish someone would put an end to that foolish custom.

"PHILOSOPHER"

DEAR PHILOSOPHER: Aw, come on. Don't tell me that every Jezebel learned to be free with her favors by kissing her grandfather when she was three. May I quote another philosopher? "I will show you a love potion without drug or herb or any witch's spell; if you wish to be loved, love." (Hecato)

KNOW THE FACTS

SOME GM HISTORY

W. C. Durant, who had been a carriage manufacturer, joined Buick in 1904 and by 1908 they sold 8487 cars and were the leading producers of cars in the country.

It was around Buick that Mr. Durant formed the General Motors Corp. By 1910 he had added Eleven Auto Companies but the four that were to remain were Buick, Olds (now Oldsmobile), Oakland (now Pontiac), Cadillac and in 1918 came Chevrolet.

In 1908 Buick earned $1.7 million and even at that early date were making many of their own parts. It is recognized to-day as the largest self-contained Auto plant in the World. Buick plant to-day makes Motors, Transmissions, Springs and many other parts for GM Cars.

For the first ten years it was Buick that held GM together. As Mr. Alfred P. Sloan Jr., who was president of GM from 1923 to 1946, and considered one of the greatest industrialists of our time, has said, 'especially Buick with its combination of quality and volume, was about all the substance there was to the original General Motors. It was not an accident that Buick remained the mainstay of GM throughout its early years'. It was men like W. C. Durant, Walter P. Chrysler and Charles Nash who helped form the policies and organization upon which Buick operates.

The McLaughlan-Buick of Canada was assembled from parts made in Buick's Flint factory and like it's counterpart in the States was responsible for the development of GM of Canada.

In 1914 Buick gave us a Slogan which is just as true to-day.

Starkey 2nd In District Mat Tourney

Jim Starkey, Circleville heavyweight wrestler, finished second in the district tournament Saturday after dropping a 7-1 decision to Dave Walter of Walnut Ridge.

Starkey, one of the lighter heavyweights in the Central District at 191 pounds, gave up nearly 50 pounds in weight to his opponent.

In spite of his loss, Starkey will compete in the state championships beginning 11 p. m. Friday in St. John's Arena at Ohio State University.

The local heavyweight, is the first Tiger grappler to reach the state finals since Tim Mogan turned the trick two years ago.

It is quite a feat for the Tiger heavyweight. He not only has been outweighed in almost every match entered this year, but also is competing for the first year.

Sanders Wins At Pensacola, Jibes Nicklaus

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — "I hope 'Baby Beef' doesn't miss the $4,000," joked Doug Sanders after his dramatic playoff victory over Jack Nicklaus in the $65,000 Pensacola Open Golf Tournament.

Sanders walked off with a $10,000 prize for sinking a 35-foot putt on the third playoff hole after he and Nicklaus (Baby Beef) finished regulation play with a 72-hole total of 277, which was 11 under par.

Nicklaus took $6,000 second money.

It was a great victory for the 31-year-old Ojai, Calif., pro who had not won a tournament since the 1963 Greensboro Open. The victory placed him in the Tournament of Champions and gave him a good shot at being selected for the Masters in Augusta, Ga., April 9-12

"It sure feels good to win again," he said. "Twenty-two months without a win is a long time."

Sanders led the burly Nicklaus by two strokes at the start of Sunday's action with a 12-under-par 204. But four bogies, especially one on the 15th hole at the Pensacola Country Club, left him into a tie.

Nicklaus took a temporary lead at that point with a birdie, only to go two-over at the 17th. A 10-foot putt on the 18th temporarily saved his day. Sanders parred the 18th to set up the playoff.

Ice Skating King Talks of Retiring

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo (AP) — "I think now I will quit," Alain Calmat told newsmen Sunday, one day after the 24-year-old Frenchman won the world's figure skating title with a compelling exhibition at the Broadmoor World Arena.

"I may change my mind later," he said, "but I've been skating in these championships since I was 14 and now that I've won it, it would be a good time to stop."

Scott Ethan Allen of Smoke Rise, N.J., came up with the best performance by an American in six years to place second in the meet, just ahead of 17-year-old Donald Knight of Dundas, Ont.

OU, Miami Stars Repeat Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio University's Don Hilt and Miami's Jeff Gehring, who tangle tonight in a playoff game for the Mid-American Conference basketball crown, are the only repeaters on this season's all-loop cage team.

Hilt and Gehring, both seniors, were named Saturday along with Bob Dwors of Bowling Green, Dave Anderson of Western Michigan and Tom Langfitt of Marshall as the choices of the seven MAC coaches.

Second team picks were Mike Haley, Ohio; Charlie Dinkins and Charlie Coles, Miami; Wilson Graham, Kent, and Bill Backenston, Toledo.

Aquinas Defeats Rams, 69-43, in Local Sectional

The basketball season for Aquinas High School, was extended by at least one more game when the Terriers defeated Columbus St. Mary's, 69-43, Saturday night at Teays Valley.

The Terriers now move into the Central District tournament at the Columbus Coliseum where they will face Big Walnut, a 53-48 winner over Johnstown Saturday at Westerville.

The winners allowed the St. Mary's Rams to stay in the game for only four minutes of the first quarter. At that point they started to pull away and the losers never threatened the winning margin.

The score at the end of the first quarter found the Terriers leading 17-9. At halftime the Rams had fallen to a 35-22 deficit and by the time the final period began they were down, 50-35.

SHORTLY after the final quarter started, the Terriers widened the margin to better than 20 points.

Pacing the winners' offense was Jim Duckworth, a 6-3 senior who was named to the second team of the Columbus City League All-Star team.

Duckworth hit six buckets from the field and added 13 at the foul line for 25 markers. Jack Radich tipped in 15 points and Mike Stafford and Jack Elgin both scored 10.

The best effort for the losers was by Jim Maurer who scored 10 points when he hit four field goals and two foul shots.

Maurer saw much of the game sitting on the St. Mary's bench. He was in foul trouble early, picking up his fourth personal before halftime. He departed via the foul route before the final period began.

Three men scored six points each for the Rams. They were Mike Potochina, Steve Gassman and John Shepard.

THE FOUL line spelled the biggest difference. The Rams had 22 chances at the charity stripe and could hit only nine.

On the other hand, the Terriers stepped up to the line 45 times and connected on 31 shots.

Aquinas

Duckworth, 6-13-25; Green, 1-1-3; Radich, 6-3-15; Zuber, 0-1-1; Stafford, 1-8-10; Elgin, 4-2-10; Olsen, 1-0-2; Noles, 0-3-3. Totals, 19-31-69.

Perry County Farm Boy Buys $6 Million Track

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Purchase of Cincinati's River Downs race track by Charles J. McGreevy for $6 million is just another paragraph in the Columbusite's "farm boy makes good" story.

McGreevy, so far as his family knows, hasn't seen many races and has never made any $2 wagers on the bangtails.

He's strictly a business man, who wears many hats as he fills multiple roles in the financial field. His entry into the "Sport of Kings" is a money-making endeavor. He is not a fan.

He was born on a farm near New Lexington, Ohio, (Perry County) in 1908. His mother died when he was an infant, and he was reared through his younger childhood by two maiden aunts.

McGreevy has never been a sports participant, doesn't bowl or play golf. He admits he knows nothing about the racing game.

His big hobby is successful investment, and his multi-million excursion into horse racing probably is more along that line than an effort to "improve the breed."

He is a staunch member of the Christ the King Catholic Church, and has long been active here in religious, charitable and civic enterprises.

He made a $100,000 "earnest money" down payment on River Downs some time ago, came up with another $300,000 Thursday, and will dump another $900,000 into the deal April 1 when the transfer is consummated. The rest of the $6 million is due in the next five years.

The sale moves Leon A. Slavin of Cincinnati into the big-profit category. Slavin bought River Downs in 1955 for a reported $1½ million from the late Robert J. Dinest of Columbus.

He is president of the Chas Mac Realty Co., a realty holding company, and Lane Acres, Inc., a residential land development. He is vice president and director of Rumac, Inc., builder of apartments and a recreation center in Athens.

In addition, he is president of Auld Crafters, Inc., manufacturing jewelers in Columbus, and Seaway Warehouse Co., in Toledo. He is a director, chairman of the finance committee, treasurer and member of the executive committee of the Fidelity National Life Insurance Co. of Columbus. He is vice president of the Brunson Bank and Trust Co., and is president of the Citizen's Savings and Loan Co. in Columbus.

History hasn't recorded the former farm boy turning loose anything he gained control of. He has moved fast and far in the financial field.

He is married and has six children and six grandchildren. Three of his five daughters are married. His married son, Michael J. McGreevy, like his dad, hasn't competed in athletics since grade school days.

The River Downs venture is McGreevy's first in the sports world, and like the trackmen say—"He's betting a bundle!"

Piston Coach Is Nearing 'Other' Job

By THE ASSOCIATED Press

Player-coach Dave DeBusschere of the Detroit Pistons apparently will be able to start in on his other job sooner than he had hoped.

DeBusschere and the Pistons had been looking forward to a spot in the National Basketball Association playoffs, but the Baltimore Bullets virtually killed those chances Sunday night by handing Detroit its third consecutive defeat 111-105.

In other games, Boston rolled past Philadelphia 133-111. St. Louis crushed New York 132-106 and Los Angeles edged Cincinnati 106-104.

DeBusschere's other job is pitching for the Chicago White Sox. He joins the baseball team in spring training as soon as the NBA season is over. If the Pistons would get into the playoffs, though, DeBusschere's trip south would be detained by at least two games and conceivably more.

But now the Pistons have dropped back to a five-game deficit with only five to play and virtually are out of it.

Miami-OU Cage Playoff Coming Tonight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Mid-American Conference steals the spotlight from the mighty Big Ten tonight on Ohio's basketball courts.

Ohio State, winner of the Western Conference crown the last five years, is host to Michigan's new kings of the loop and holders of the national No. 1 rating, in the loop finale.

Usually such a tussle between the ancient rivals would get No. 1 billing over anything the others have to offer—but not this time.

All eyes will be on the University of Dayton's floor, where Miami and Ohio University battle it out for the Mid-American Conference berth in the NCAA tournament race. The Bobcats and Redskins, who traded 10-point victories in the regular campaign, meet on the neutral floor with 11-1 records.

The winner goes to Bowling Green, Ky., Tuesday night for the first NCAA regional scrap—and the opponent will be Dayton's Flyers. The entire Gem City squad will get a scouting look at the Mid-American's best in the playoff.

Miami, which split regular season games with Dayton, had a 20-4 record for the campaign after beating Pittsburgh 89-66 Saturday. Ohio smacked Toledo 87-61 in its "must" game for an 18-6 mark, and the Flyers finished at 20-6 by avenging a former loss to DePaul by 71-64.

Akron, winner of the Ohio Conference tourney, added the regional NCAA small college crown by whipping Buffalo 69-58 and moves into the next round at Evansville, Ind., this week.

Bowling Green's Bob Dwors wound up his career with 38 points in the 108-94 win over Marshall which moved the Falcons into a third-place tie at 6-6 with Toledo in the MAC.

Ohio teams had huge success in interstate play this year, winning 243 and losing 161 to outsiders.

Ohio State, after trimming Michigan State 97-75 Saturday, has a 5-8 record in the Big Ten for a sixth-place tie with Purdue. The Bucks are 11-12 overall, and with Mighty Michigan as the final foe, face their first losing season since the 9-13 racked up in 1958.

Robby Is Ready To Go for Reds

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Frank Robinson feels he's matured. The Cincinati Reds' top slugger says he's ready to go—and at any position where Manager Dick Sisler might want him.

Robinson raised a storm of protests when he was shifted from the outfield to first base for the 1959 season. But now he'll gladly play anyplace, much to the surprise of Sisler.

"You could have knocked me over when Robby came to me the other day and said, 'I've been reading about some of the problems you anticipate and I just want you to know I'll play anywhere you want me—first or third base or any of the outfield positions'," Sisler said.

Sisler's plans, however, call for Robinson to remain in the outfield.

During the past 10 years, jockey Bill Hartack has win 25 stakes races at Hialeah. He leads the riders in features for this period.

Centralia Defeats Unioto To Win Chillicothe Tourney

Centralia High School emerged as Ross County area sectional champion Saturday at Chillicothe after posting a 70-61 win over Unioto.

Senior forward Glenn Burchwell paced the Bulldogs to the win over the Shermans. The victors overcame an early deficit to earn the crown.

The first quarter saw Centralia trailing 19-15. By halftime they had pulled to a 31-30 lead.

At this point the sharpshooting Burchwell went to work. He notched only eight points in the first half, but scored 21 in the second. He added 19 rebounds in an outstanding individual performance.

IN LEADING the Bulldogs to a win over Whiteoak the night before, Burchwell scored 28 points and had 17 rebounds.

He, along with Jim Haynes and Bill Fetters, was named to the all-sectional team.

Fetters also cracked the double figure mark for the Bulldogs, hitting six field goals and three charity tosses for 15.

The leading scorer for Unioto was sphomore whiz Dale Haynes who tallied nine field goals and six foul shots for a total of 24.

At the foul line, Centralia connected on 18 of 21 attempts for an 85 per cent average. Unioto hit 13 foul shots in 19 trips.

The next step along the tournament trail for the Bulldogs comes at 3 p.m. Saturday when they face Albany at the Athens district.

ALBANY, rated in the top ten in Class A by the Associated Press, owns a 23-1 record and handed the Bulldogs one of the worst drubbings they have received in recent years. The Athens County Quintet defeated Centralia, 105-70.

That game was played on the Albany home floor. In other action at the district tournament New Boston, (22-2) plays Racine, (16-6).

The two winners move on to the regional turnament also scheduled at Athens.

First Action Is Scheduled In Long NCAA Tourney

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The long, long road to Portland, Ore., and the finals of the far - flung NCAA Basketball Tournament begins tonight with first round activity in Philadelphia and Lubbock, Tex.

In addition, playoffs are scheduled tonight in Waco, Tex., and Dayton, Ohio, to determine the last two teams in the NCAA tourney field, a field that will be reduced to four for the finals in Portland, March 19-20.

In between, there's another set of first-round games in Bowling, Green, Ky., Tuesday, and the four regional tourneys, in College Park, Md.; Lexington, Ky.; Manhattan, Kan., and Provo, Utah. All the regionals are scheduled Friday and Saturday.

Philadelphia has a tripleheader tonight, Pen State vs. Princeton, West Virginia vs. nationally fourth-ranked Providence, and third-ranked St. Joseph's, Pa., vs. Connecticut.

The winners of those three along with North Carolina State, surprise winner of the Atlantic Coast Conference tourney Saturday night, will advance to the East regional.

The doubleheader in Lubbock matches Houston and Notre Dame, and Colorado State U. against Oklahoma City. The Houston - Notre Dame winner goes into the Mid-West regional and the Colorado State-Oklahoma City winner to the West regional.

The playoff at Waco matches Southern Methodist and Texas for the right to represent the Southwest Conferece. Tex Tech won the title but had to abandon it for using an ineligible player.

Ohio U. and Miami of Ohio play for the Mid-American Conference title in Dayton, with the winner going on to Bowling Green for a Mid-East first-round game against Dayton Tuesday. Eastern Kentucky plays DePaul in the other half of the doubleheader, completing all first-round play.

An obscure substitute and a veteran coach were the key figures Saturday in the wind-up weekend of the regular season.

Substitute Larry Worsley came off the bench, scored 30 points and led North Carolina State to a 91-85 upset of eighth-ranked Duke 1964 runner-up to UCLA's national champions.

And the Oklahoma State Cowboys carried veteran Coach Hank Iba off the court after beating Kansas 64-58 and clinching the Big Eight title at Lawrence, Kan., Saturday.

The Big Eight crown had eluded Iba, an almost legendary coach. He is one of the two active coaches with 700 or more victories, was a many-time winner of the Missouri Valley title, has had NCAA champions and was the coach of the 1964 U.S. Olympic champions.

Michigan, the nation's No. 1 team, wrapped up its second straight Big Ten title and an NCAA berth with an 88-85 decision over sixth-ranked Minnesota. All-America Cazzie Russell sparked the Wolverines with 24 points, including the go-ahead basket.

Wichita also clinched an NCAA spot by edging Drake in overtime, 76-74, after Bradley had beaten St. Louis 94-91, also in overtime. Both Bradley and St. Louis will play in the National Invitation Tourney, opening in New York Thursday.

Ninth-ranked Villanova, the No. 1 seed in the NIT, finished its regular season with a 73-69 edge over Marquette, second-ranked UCLA took Southern California 52-50, fifth-ranked Vanderbilt beat Tulane 85-62 and 10th - ranked Brigham Young, already assured of the WAC title and NCAA spot, knocked off New Mexico, second seed in the NIT, 88-73.

Cleveland Gambling Raids Net 35 Arrests

CLEVELAND (AP) — Thirty-five persons arrested in weekend gambling raids were to appear in Municipal Court today. David Williams, 47, was charged with keeping rooms for gambling. All the others were charged with visiting a place for the purpose of gambling.

PPG Emulsion Unit Is Now On Stream at Local Plant

New production facilities for the manufacture of polyvinyl acetate emulsions, used in consumer interior and exterior latex finishes, are now on stream at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's Circleville central resins plant.

The announcement was made by Charles R. Holman, vice president of manufacturing for the company's Coatings and Resins Division.

PVA emulsions are used in PPG's top quality household paints in both the Wallhide interior finishes line and the newer outside house paints of the latex-base types.

Previous to activation of the Circleville PVA facilities, PPG did not manufacture its own requirements for these emulsions. The new PVA facility, installed in existing structures at Circleville with an addition to the tank farm, will begin regular tank car and truck shipments to PPG trade paint manuacturing plants at an early date, it was stated.

RESIN lines now in production at the central resins plant include Duracron and Duracryl acrylics both developed by PPG and now licensed to leading coatings, paint and plastic producers both here and abroad.

In addition the plant produces melamine and urea type resins which are used in combination with alkyds to produce a broad line of high quality finishes now being used by the automobile industry, in appliance applications and in general industrial finishes.

Selectron polyester resins, used in reinforced plastics applications, are also produced at Circleville.

"The latest expansion of PPG's Circleville facilities was predicated on the excellent employe attitudes and splendid community relations experienced in this operation," Holman stated.

A third expansion is now under way with structural steel in place for a new wing that will provide 30,000 square feet of floor space for the production of alkyd resins.

The new Circleville unit, scheduled for completion this year, will supplement alkyd resin production now available at other Coatings and Resins Division plants, Holman said.

Alkyd resins are used both in the manufacture of consumer paints and industrial finishes.

Harsha Urges Break with Indonesia

Congressman William H. Harsha of Ohio's 6th District has called upon the State Department today to immediately break off all diplomatic relations with Indonesia. He said this would include withdrawing the United States Ambassador, cutting off any aid to Indonsia, and the withdrawal of our Peace Corps from that nation.

Harsha said the recent seizure of our USIA libraries in Indonesia and the earlier sacking of other libraries have exhausted the patience of the American taxpayer.

"Sukarno's honey - foggling with the Communists while ridiculing and criticizing the American Government, together with seizure of American-owned industries, clearly indicates that any diplomatic relations that we carry on with Indonesia are an exercise in futility," the Ohio lawmaker stated.

"His efforts to destroy Malaysia and his association with the Communists in their efforts to capture southeast Asia are proof positive that we have very little in common with Sukarno. To retain our embassy and Peace Corps and foreign aid officials there any longer will only serve as an opportunity to Sukarno to further humiliate and insult the American people. Why continue to dignify him with the presence of our ambassador?", he queried.

It was announced today that Congressman Harsha has been elected a member of the House Republican Policy Committee.

Chairman John J. Rhodes (R-Ariz.) said Harsha is one of eight members elected from geographical sections of the country and will represent the East Central Region consisting of Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia.

2 Names Top GOP Chief List

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The two leading contenders to succeed Ray C. Bliss as Republican state chairman — Lucas County Chairman John S. Andrews and Allen County Chairman Kent B. McGough — both claimed Sunday they had enough support to win.

McGough was busy Sunday talking to members of the State Central and Executive Committee, who were to pick the successor to Bliss, who takes over as national chairman April 1. The showdown was to come at a committee meeting here today.

"Most of the people I talked with were those who had already come out for me," said the 48-year-old McGough, "But I also talked to some new people.

"The contacts were very encouraging. I see no reason for discouragement."

Andrews, 45, was conceded an early advantage because he formerly worked with Bliss in state GOP headquarters. The party has made big strides in Toledo since he became chairman—including gaining control of city council.

U. S. Rep. William McCulloch of Piqua came out strong for McGough and predicted he would win the $16,000 - a - year post.

Although the race generally was seen as a two-man contest, a new name popped into speculation in recent days—former Hamilton County Chairman George F. Eyrich of Cincinnati.

New Rulings On Insurance Firms Backed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Companion measures carrying additional safeguards for insurance policy purchasers and stockholders of new insurance companies won administration backing today.

One bill ready for the legislature would increase starting capital and surplus requirements for new fire and casualty firms from $300,000 to $1 million.

The other pending proposal would require life insurance companies to pay stockholder dividends from earnings, rather than from paid-in surplus, and ban excessive dividends to policy holders that might weaken financial positions.

"These laws would give the Department of Insurance a greater opportunity to protect the insurance-buying public and insurance company investors in Ohio," Insurance Supt. William R. Morris said in a statement.

The development emerged as the legislature returned to start its eighth week of work tonight.

The initial hearings by the Senate Commerce and Labor Committee Tuesday and Wednesday on a pair of "fair housing" bills are the features of a lengthening schedule of meetings in both houses during the week to consider pending measures.

Both proposals ban racial discrimination in the sale, financing and rental of housing.

On the House side, the Education Committee has scheduled an explanation of the complicated public school foundation formula for Tuesday, and another round Wednesday in the school lobby's bid to boost sales taxes to get more money for public education.

An expected floor vote in the House this week on the $888 million highway and highway safety appropriation bill and similar action on the $1.5 billion general appropriation measure by the end of the month has encouraged leaders to speculate on legislative adjournment during May.

Club-Swinging Alabama....

This failed to force the marchers back across the Alabama River bridge over which they had just walked, so the troopers began throwing tear-gas grenades.

As the troopers moved in on the marchers the first time, a crowd of several hundred white persons which had gathered about 100 yards away broke into cheers.

The cheering grew louder and the crowd shouted encouragement as the troopers heaved the grenades.

Although the crowd was loud and hostile, it made no attempt to break through heavy police lines to attack the marchers.

As the grenades exploded, the Negroes, who had regrouped after the first charge, knelt by the side of the road to pray. But finally the gas routed them and they began running back across the long bridge that leads into downtown Selma.

Some stumbled over fellow marchers as they ran in panic and state troopers hit them with clubs. The group had marched about a mile from the Browns Chapel A.M.E. Church and they were chased by the posse all the way back to the church.

One downtown street was lined with cars in which Negroes sat watching events.

Members of the posse beat on the hoods of the automobiles with their nightsticks and pointed their clubs at the drivers, shouting, "Get the hell out of town! Go on, I mean it! We want all the Niggers off the streets!"

The Negroes all left without protest. Thirty minutes after the marchers' encounter with the troopers a Negro could not be seen walking the streets.

Back at the church, Clark and Cloud dispersed the deputies and troopers through the Negro neighborhood, telling the Negroes to get into their houses. Those who headed for their doors too slowly were chased inside.

The troopers then were carrying sawed - off shotguns, riot guns and automatic rifles.
